E-22136

December 14, 2015

To the Iowa Utilities Board,

I am writing this letter of objection and concern in regard to the proposed wind energy project by the Rock Island Clean Line business.

- As an honest and trusting citizen, I believe the methods used by the Rock Island Clean Line to make their project a reality are shamefully unacceptable. Their tactics to skirt the law and practices to circumvent the rights of land owners are but another red flag in this entire project.
- As a property owner in Iowa, it is hard to imagine the devastating effect this proposed project would have on communities, residents, land values and, sadly, the farmland, itself. A specific tragedy would be the area in southern Jones County near Stone City, made famous by artist Grant Wood. The beautiful countryside of the area captured in his paintings would be a national treasure forever changed.
- As a person who believes in individual rights and believes that good and right will prevail, I trust and pray that the Iowa Utility Board will hold their ground, not be bullied by one profit-making entity, and will truly represent the citizens of Iowa and the land on which we live.

Sincerely,

Marilyn Lambertsen
