

I do not think a private for-profit-company should be able to use eminent domain to obtain land for their use. I think it sets a very bad precedence. They are trying to go down the middle of fields and very near farm yards and they have not proven that there is not a health hazard associated with these transmission lines.