

I object to the bifurcation the RICL has applied for. This just adds anxiety to my life and the life of the parishners whom I serve. Anxiety easily leads to tension in relationships and even health concerns if the anxiety is over an extended period of time. The daily issues around the world bring anxiety enough. The proposed line to which there is extensive opposition has added enough stress to lives already stressed. I pray for peace of heart for myself, my family, friends and my parish. When all under such pressure, that peace which Jesus promises is not easily recognized and realized. No to this additional request by RICL.
