IN RE:

DOCKET NO. TF-2019-0033

SECURUS TECHNOLOGIES, LLC

AFFIDAVIT OF MICHAEL S. J. LOZICH

STATE OF TEXAS)
) ss.
COUNTY OF DENTON)

1. I am Senior Corporate Counsel and Director of Regulatory and Governmental Affairs for Securus Technologies, LLC. In that capacity I have first-hand knowledge of the facts set forth in this Affidavit.
2. Securus operates in 47 states and the District of Columbia (and we have certificates or authorizations to provide telecommunications services with the public utilities commissions in all 50 states, in the District of Columbia, and in Puerto Rico.)
3. Securus has contracts for services and equipment with approximately 1,200 governmental agencies across the country.
4. While Securus does not keep lists of differences among the numerous terms of those contracts, the overwhelming majority of those 1,200 contracts include an Automated Payment Fee (that is also applied to our AdvanceConnect Single Call product) of $3.00. Based on my experience with our contracts, I believe that the number of exceptions where a different Automated Payment Fee is contracted is likely less than two dozen.
5. The Securus legal department consists of only 12 people (including five attorneys, four regulatory specialists, a paralegal, an IP manager, and one administrative staff. We cover the entire country, and currently have large proceedings that take up substantial resources before the Federal Communications Commission (WC Docket No. 12-375), the California Public Utilities Commission (R.20-10-002), and the New Mexico Public Regulation Commission (Docket No. 20-00170-UT).
6. The amount of time and staff resource that would be required to manually review 1,200 separate contracts to identify and verify exceptions is significant, and would be a substantial hardship on our department. To be able to meet the ongoing deadlines in the other active matters, I believe it would take several weeks to complete a thorough review, involving or at least supervised by the attorneys, to respond to OCA's data request.

Further Affiant Sayeth Not.
