Re:

Alliant Energy Vision of "Green" energy.

Saturday, August 14, 2021

IUB please consider,

This morning the outside temperature in Mason City, Iowa was 46°F

My Home gas fired furnace was running.

The great coal companies are closing down because the coal fired power plants are shuttered and retired.

The power companies are ever expanding in electric windmills for the "Green" power philosophy to prevent global warming and climate change.

Consider 6th grade science to understand how rain moves across the land. Rain falls, quite a bit evaporates and rises to cool and condense and fall again as rain - just like a basketball dribbled down the court.

Carpet the landscape with electric windmills and the bounce is gone!

Drought is ever expanding - Where? - exactly where electric windmills have been added to the countryside.

The energy to evaporate those raindrops has been removed from the air by the windmills.

Please help us survive the "Green" philosophy.
